Where there is an obviously gross misplacement of the decimal point in the unit rate, the line item total as quoted shall govern, and the unit rate shall be corrected.
- c) Where there is an error in the total of the prices either as a result of other corrections required by this checking process or in the tenderer's addition of prices, the total of the prices shall govern and the tenderer will be asked to revise selected item prices (and their rates if bills of quantities apply) to achieve the tendered total of the prices.

SUPPLY AND DELIVERY OF LIVESTOCK IDENTIFICATION AND TRACEABILITY SYSTEM (LITS) GADGETS – 2026/27

BACKGROUND

The Department of Agriculture is seeking services from a suitably qualified Service Providers for the supply and delivery of the Livestock Identification and Traceability System (LITS) gadgets (Table 1) to support Redmeat producers in the Eastern Cape.

The development of the national animal identification and recording system requires the presence of national regulation, particularly if animal health and traceability are the primary objectives. The province has diverse approaches to animal production that vary from intensive, semi-intensive, extensive and mixed systems. The dominant methods of production are traditional pastoral systems for beef animals and small stock while small holder production prevails in the dairy sector. Commercialization of agriculture has been identified as a key priority in national development and is the main thrust of vision 2030.

Broadly, the Animal Identification and Traceability System Strategy is intended to support livestock production, animal health, animal welfare and food safety to protect the livelihoods of our farmers and enhance trade in animals and animal products.

OBJECTIVES

The Specific objectives of the Strategy are to:

- a) Improve market access of livestock and livestock products from the province;
- b) Curb illegal livestock movement within and across the province;
- c) Facilitate control of trans-boundary and trade-sensitive animal diseases;
- d) Improve the quality and safety of food of animal origin through strengthened product traceability;
- e) Curb livestock theft and related insecurity; and
- f) Support breeding and animal exchange programs

Additionally, the strategy will contribute towards conflict resolution, peace and reconciliation and assist the detection and recovery of the stolen animals.

The animal identification in South Africa has two components; which are owner identification through brand mark and individual animal identification using acceptable methods such as ear tags. Farmers have tried increasing security measures around their farming operations in order to reduce the risk of stock theft and other criminal activities. The commercial sector devised means to install security cameras across their farming areas. Challenges have now increased in the communal and smallholder producers. Stock theft has more than just economic consequences for livestock farmers. It also affects their health and well-being while many of the victims are elderly farmers

Farmers are encouraged work with the local South African Police Services (SAPS) stock theft units to follow up on outstanding cases. While, police are working with farmers and doing their best in apprehending the perpetrators, the success in courts is inhibited by non-compliance of livestock owners to Animal Identification Act. The Act requires that all animals are branded so that they are linked to their owner, without branding, no one can claim to be the rightful owner of the animal, and the case cannot even stand in the court of law. Therefore, the Department has adopted the national call of utilizing the LITS, which was developed by the Council for Scientific Industrial Research (CSIR).

The Primary Purpose of the program are for:

- a) Animal health (e.g. disease surveillance and notification; detection and control of disease; vaccination programmes);
- b) Public health (e.g. surveillance and control of zoonotic diseases and food safety);
- c) Trade (support for inspection and certification activities of Veterinary Services, as described in World Organisation for Animal Health (OIE) Terrestrial Animal Health Code which reproduce model international veterinary certificates;

- a) Ensure to adherence to the items required in terms of quality and quantity.
- b) Provide a sample of LITS gadgets to Departmental technical team before all gadgets are delivered to the Department.
- c) Ensure to source gargets from manufactures who have ISO 9000 accreditation for the production and supply of ear tags.
- d) The supply of official ear tags should be notified to the national database within five days prior to supplying the ear tags to the Eastern Cape Department of Agriculture.

- 4.2. In cases where organs of state intend to use Regulation 3(2) of the Regulations, which states that, if it is unclear whether the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system applies, an organ of state must, in the tender documents, stipulate in the case of—
- (a) an invitation for tender for income-generating contracts, that either the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system will apply and that the highest acceptable tender will be used to determine the applicable preference point system; or
 - (b) any other invitation for tender, that either the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system will apply and that the lowest acceptable tender will be used to determine the applicable preference point system, then the organ of state must indicate the points allocated for specific goals for both the 90/10 and 80/20 preference point system.

Table 1: Specific goals for the tender and points claimed are indicated per the table below.
(Note to organs of state: Where either the 90/10 or 80/20 preference point system is applicable, corresponding points must also be indicated as such.

Note to tenderers: The tenderer must indicate how they claim points for each preference point system.)
