2. Departmental and Programme Overview

The KwaZulu-Natal (KZN) Department of Economic Development, Tourism and Environmental Affairs' (EDTEA) strategic plan is centered on the stimulation, support, and promotion of an inclusive and sustainable economic development at a provincial and local level, to stimulate economic growth through the promotion of trade and investment in priority economic sectors and the implementation of strategic initiatives to advance industrial development. The promotion of trade and investment mandates EDTEA to lead the provincial initiative to ensure an enabling business environment to facilitate Business Retention and Expansion (BRE). As such the department has to take the lead in coordinating the efforts of stakeholders within the province as a means of achieving this objective. Business continues to increasingly pay attention to the business macro and meso-environment factors that enable existing businesses to grow and expand. In a relatively open and integrated global economy, the linkages between these factors as a source of business retention and expansion have become paramount.

The concept of an enabling business environment continues to position central to the economic recovery of the province of KwaZulu-Natal. The Trade and Industry Development Programme recognizes the importance of assessing the provincial business environment alongside eminent economic constraints deepened further by the global COVID-19 pandemic, July unrests, and recent floods. It is against this premise that business environment index studies become vital to better understand the business landscape to respond to challenges experienced by businesses and enable businesses to seize opportunities in the KwaZulu-Natal province and beyond.

EDTEA is legislatively mandated to champion and promote sustainable economic growth in the province of KwaZulu-Natal (KZN). The objective of the Trade and Investment Promotions sub-programmes is to facilitate trade promotion and to attract investment into the KZN province by addressing issues of the diversification of KZN exports, enhancing the provinces' global competitiveness, decentralization of trade and investment in KZN to incorporate the historically marginalized areas into the mainstream economy, and broaden trade within the African continent and beyond.

An enabling business environment is a crucial component for the growth and expansion of businesses, and economic development with the potential to create more new jobs.

The KwaZulu-Natal district business environment index studies aim to assess the business environment and propensity of the province's strategic economic nodes to expand, provide support to existing businesses thus ensuring retention, growth, and expansion.

3. Purpose of the TOR

The KwaZulu-Natal Covid-19 Economic Recovery Strategy recognizes the importance of business retention and expansion as a support mechanism for both international and local investors to further advance growth in the province.

The business environment index study is undertaken as one of the deliverables to evaluate the ease of doing business to ensure business retention and expansion across the different strategic economic nodes of the province. Accordingly, and in alignment with the KZN economic reconstruction and recovery plan the study aims to provide recommendations to support the development of a systematic response comprising short, medium, and long-term interventions to issues raised by businesses to improve and resuscitate the competitiveness of KZN businesses at a global level, thereby elevating provincial trade, export growth, and economic development.

Outside of the eThekweni metro area, EDTEA has identified the District of uMzinyathi as a key strategic economic node that is gearing its efforts toward the reconstruction and recovery of the KZN province's economic growth. The business environment index study will focus on the industrial and economic nodes of the local municipality of Endumeni within the District of uMzinyathi to support multinational and domestic micro, small, medium, and large businesses located within the regions. The study will expand on strategic economic nodes of the KZN province, using a mixed-method approach to understand the index of support, gather business perception of the regions as areas to undertake business, and further ascertain prospects for improvement and revitalization and business growth intentions and plans.

The information will be used as the basis of Business Retention, Expansion, and Aftercare (BREA) of the province to address constraints and improve the regions as strategic locations to do business, retain and grow business for the creation of employment opportunities.

4. Project Objectives

An enabling business environment is an important component of a region's economic development, capital investment, and job creation. A consensus among local and global economic development organizations is that between 60% - 80% of new jobs emanate from retained businesses that further choose to expand in the economic regions.

Its importance is premised on the fact a favourable business environment fosters business retention and existing businesses continue to build the local economy at a lower cost than that of attracting new businesses. Consequently, investment attraction efforts are likely to be unsuccessful if existing firms are unhappy. BRE is a factor of a healthy business environment that supports business competitiveness. Businesses that stay competitive are more likely to remain than relocate and possibly expand to create more jobs.
