1. BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Despite the relative successes of the post-apartheid South African Government, there has been some challenges in delivering adequate basic services, that has led to recent wild spread community unrest.

The Mpumalanga Department of Co-Operative Governance, Human Settlements and Traditional Affairs is mandated by the Constitution and Housing Act of 1997 to provide basic services to its communities such as internal engineering services (water, sewer, and provision of adequate shelter). The analysis is mainly about service delivery as experienced in different areas both formal and informal townships.

In accordance with the Housing Act, the provision of sustainable human settlements requires collaborative governance among the three spheres of government. The Intergovernmental Relations Framework Act, 2005 provides the institutional mechanisms necessary to facilitate cooperation, coordination, and integrated decision-making in the planning and implementation of housing programmes.

Section 212, Chapter 12 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996

The Department acknowledges the role for Traditional Leadership as an institution at local level on matters affecting local communities and to deal with matters relating to traditional leadership, the role of Traditional Leaders, customary law and the customs of communities observing a system of customary law by the establishment of Houses of Traditional Leaders.

In terms of section Local Government: Municipal Systems Act, 2000 (Act No. 32 of 2000)

The Act seeks to provide for the core principles, mechanisms and processes that are necessary to enable Municipalities to move progressively towards the social and economic upliftment of local communities and ensure universal access to essential services that are affordable to all; to define the legal nature of a municipality as including the local community within the municipal area, working in partnership with the municipality's political and administrative structures; to provide for the manner in which municipal powers and functions are exercised and performed to provide for community participation; to establish a simple and enabling framework for the core processes of planning, performance management, resource mobilization and organizational change which underpin the notion of developmental local government; to provide a framework for the provision of services, service delivery agreements and municipal service districts; to provide for credit control and debt collection; to establish a framework for support, monitoring and standard setting by other spheres of government in order to progressively build local government into an efficient, frontline development agency capable of integrating the activities of all spheres of government for the overall social and economic upliftment of communities in harmony with their local natural environment; to provide for legal matters pertaining to local government; and to provide for matters incidental thereto.
