THE RICHARDS BAY DRY BULK TERMINAL PROJECT

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Transport (“DoT”), in collaboration with Development Bank of Southern Africa (“DBSA”) and National Treasury (“NT”), has established a dedicated Private Sector Participation (“PSP”) Unit to support the restructuring and modernisation of South Africa’s rail, logistics, and port sectors. The PSP Unit arises from Cabinet-approved reforms contained in: the National Rail Policy, the Rail PSP Framework, and the Freight Logistics Roadmap, all of which seek to restore capacity, improve operational performance, and accelerate private sector investment across the national transport system.

The PSP Unit functions as a specialised programme preparation and coordination platform intended to improve the speed, quality, consistency, and bankability of PSP transactions. Its mandate is to support the planning, structuring, procurement, and implementation of complex PSP projects across freight rail, passenger rail, intermodal logistics, and port infrastructure. The Unit is therefore designed to strengthen institutional delivery capability, standardise transaction preparation, coordinate market-facing processes, and create a credible long-term PSP pipeline capable of attracting sustained private investment.

Within this institutional framework, the DoT serves as the mandate owner and strategic sponsor of the PSP Programme (“the Programme” or “the PSP Programme”) in its capacity as shareholder ministry for Transnet SoC Ltd (“Transnet”) and Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa (“PRASA”). National Treasury provides fiscal and Public Finance Management Act (“PFMA”) oversight, statutory approvals, and technical support relating to PPP governance, affordability, and fiscal risk management. DBSA provides implementation and operational support to the PSP Unit, including programme coordination, procurement support, transaction preparation, programme management capability, and funding mobilisation support.

DBSA

The DBSA as the host of the PSP Unit establishes a coordinated public-sector platform capable of delivering strategically important PSP projects in a structured, transparent, and investable manner while supporting the long-term reform, recovery, and competitiveness of South Africa’s freight and passenger transport system.

It is important to note that under the Legal Succession to the South African Transport Services Act, Transnet and PRASA remain the asset owners, and responsible for procuring and contracting entities with private parties. The PSP Unit does not replace the statutory governance or procurement authority of these state-owned entities. Rather, it supports them by providing specialised programme preparation capability and coordinated institutional support required to bring complex PSP transactions to the market efficiently and credibly.

PURPOSE OF REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

The rail and ports investment reforms are complex and wide-ranging; and require specialist expertise to strengthen Transnet's capacity. Transnet is pursuing Richards Bay Dry Bulk Terminal ("RBDBT" or "Project") as one of their strategically significant export corridor transactions, to unlock private sector capital, operational expertise, and commercial efficiency, while maintaining Transnet's obligations under public law and its role as a state-owned enterprise (SOE).

It is for this reason that the DBSA is procuring the transaction advisory services (multidisciplinary team) to support the RBDBT with: (i) conducting the legal and regulatory feasibility, (ii) review and update the existing feasibility studies, (iii) preparation of procurement and contracting documents for the private partner and (iv) support the commercial and financial close activities as outlined in the scope hereunder. The preferred bidder will be appointed for a period of three (3) years.

TRANSACTION BACKGROUND AND SCOPE OF WORK

TRANSACTION BACKGROUND

The RBDBT transaction ("the RBDBT Project" or "the Project") involves the optimisation and expansion of the existing Richards Bay Dry Bulk Terminal into a competitive, multi-user export facility focused on chrome, magnetite, and other bulk commodities. The transaction is intended to reposition the terminal as a reliable and commercially attractive export gateway, capable of competing with alternative regional routes while supporting increased throughput and improved operational performance.

The transaction will be structured as a terminal-focused Private Sector Participation, centred on the ring-fencing of terminal operations into a separate, commercially viable entity. This will enable private sector equity participation and the introduction of operational expertise, technology, and capital investment to enhance capacity, efficiency, and service levels. Additionally, the TA must consider the Transnet Port Terminal ("TPT") S65 evergreen license on the proposed PSP implementation structure ("SPV") and its impact on the shareholding i.e. possible sublicensing S65 that would require TPT to retain a minimum 51% share or majority in the SPV for it to be preserved.

A key requirement of the transaction is the establishment of a clear legal and commercial framework governing the interface between the terminal operator, Transnet Freight Rail as rail operator, and the broader port system under the National Ports Authority and any other relevant regulators. This includes without limit, defined access arrangements, performance obligations, and coordination mechanisms to ensure reliable integration between rail delivery, terminal handling, and vessel loading.

The transaction must be structured in compliance with applicable laws, including the National Ports Act, applicable port regulatory frameworks, and Transnet's obligations as a state-owned entity under the PFMA, while ensuring that the commercial model supports long-term sustainability and private sector investment. The transaction design must enable a bankable structure, with clear risk allocation, predictable revenue mechanisms, and appropriate governance arrangements to support third-party financing and long-term operational performance.

CURRENT PROJECT STATUS

RBDBT has successfully concluded the Project Preparation Phase (Stages 1 & 2 of JIEPS Framework) as approved by the Transnet Board. A Request for Qualification (RFQ) was issued in February 2026 and is currently in the market anticipated to close in August 2026. Transnet will provide access to all relevant Project preparation documentation and reports to the preferred bidder upon conclusion of relevant services agreement/s.

The Transaction Advisor comprising of a multi-disciplinary team, will need to submit a single bid in the format prescribed in the scope. The Project scope includes the following:

- comprehensive legal and regulatory feasibility study;
- review of existing project information and updating of the financial model and demand study;
- conducting a cost benefit analysis ("CBA");
- development of a Project Information Memorandum ("PIM");
- support Transnet in the development of procurement documents (i.e. Request for Proposal ("RFP, contracting templates and annexures as necessary") and the appointment of the PSP;
- commercial close support; and
- Conducting the commercial and financial close activities.

The Preferred Bidder will be provided with all existing studies relevant to this Project and cooperate with the TA to ensure that the best possible data is provided and the correct analysis can be made. Studies and data expected to be made available includes the following (non-exhaustive):

- RBDBT prefeasibility study;
- RBDBT Business case;
- Technical and environmental study;
- Base case Financial model;
- Demand studies;
- Masterplans; and
- Freight and logistics Request for Information ("RFI's").
